WORLD COMMUNICATIONS DAY – TODAY

In his message for World Communications Day 2019, Pope Francis invites us to reflect on the importance of our "being-in-relation" and to rediscover, in the challenge of the current communications context, the desire of the human person, who does not want to be left isolated and alone. While governments seek legal ways to regulate the digital world and to protect the original vision of a free, open and secure network in the world-wide-web, we all have the responsibility to promote its positive use. We need to be always seeking new and innovative ways to share and promote the joy of the Gospel. On this World Communications Day, we pray for those who work in the media and also for the valuable work carried out on our behalf by the Communications Office of the Bishops' Conference. A second collection will be taken at all Masses for this purpose.
